Psychopaths really hate narcissists... in general, because even though narcissists are somewhat warped some are capable of really caring about others.

"The duration, intensity, and sheer savagery of the campaign waged by many of Bailey's MtF transsexual opponents is astonishing, especially given that Bailey's book sold only about 4200 copies..."

THEY WERE GIVING IT AWAY as a free PDF download! (disgust – "who is the narcissist here?")

PS: Bailey has some interesting points, but the man's a pig... dig? "The Man Who Would Be Queen" is a stunning example of the kind of bullshit transsexual women are subjected to clueless sexologists by "the scientific community".

Doing your "research" on trans women by chatting up hot young t-girl hookers in a gay bar... FAIL.

Anyway, I'm reading this quotation from Kohut for the 3rd time...

One could imagine that Kohut (1972) was describing the campaign conducted by some of Bailey's MtF transsexual opponents when he wrote the following:

"[There is a] need for revenge, for righting a wrong, for undoing a hurt by whatever means, and a deeply anchored, unrelenting compulsion in pursuit of all these aims.... There is utter disregard for reasonable limitations and a boundless wish to redress an injury and to obtain revenge.... The fanaticism of the need for revenge and the unending compulsion of having to square the account after an offense are...not the attributes of an aggressivity which is integrated with the mature purposes of the ego.... Aggressions employed in the pursuit of maturely experienced causes are not limitless.... The narcissistically injured [person], on the other hand, cannot rest until he has blotted out [the]...offender who dared to oppose him, [or] to disagree with him." (pp. 380, 382, 385)

... and I realize, fuck! Kohut is a PSYCHOPATH! ... because he displays no empathy for the narcissists he is "analyzing". A leading "expert" on narcissism... is a –psychopath–!!!

And sure enough, reading up on the guy, he fucked over colleagues by lying to them to screw up their research etc etc etc. BASTARD.

Thus... narcissists, who do –suffer– from a wounded ego, become game for the psychopathic manipulator... who has –no– real ego, and no sympathy at all, for anybody:

"I can help you with your problems... you need to shed your ego attachments. You CAN become a better person!"

Etc etc etc.

PS: It's not totally clear that my analysis here is correct, but a lot of Kohut's behaviors were indeed psychopathic. Hey, I'm moderately narcissistic, but I give a fuck or two about the people I criticize... and Kohut also did "some" worthwhile work?

One thing to keep in mind about psychopaths is... they are capable of doing worthwhile things.

Lacking empathy is not the worst thing in the world. Being utterly useless (even as a focus for charity), is.

Bonze Anne Rose Blayk – from Wiki:

"Freud also believed that narcissism hides low self-esteem, and that therapy will reparent them through transference and they begin to get the things they missed."

KILL.
ME.
NOW.

OK, so Freud had this bizarre desire to pose as his patients' daddy? And he infected psychiatry with this desire? (sick)

I had parents, they fucked up a lot, but they cared about me. The clinicians, well... "If I run out of money to pay you, you'll just kick me to the curb... what the hell do I need you for?"

Hence, they arrange to get paid by the State so they can inflict themselves on you at will... WONDERFUL.
