Good morning. I like your profile and am interested in getting to know you. I am looking for a long term relationship, I work for NYS with JD males in a state facility in Lansing as a mental health clinician.

Mel

Beg pardon, Mel, I appreciate your interest... but perhaps you should elaborate further in your emails why you think you would be interested in a relationship with me? (And vice versa! -LOL-)

A major obstacle: I've been in love with a man since 4/20/13 (see my Facebook profile - <https://www.facebook.com/bonze.blayk>)... and I'm still waiting for him to survive and recuperate from his illness, get back in touch with me, and follow through on the propositions he advanced in our (first ever) conversation...

Yes, it was just that real, that mindblowing in nature, and I'm that much of a romantic at heart, so, for the time being... I wait.

thanks, and have a great day tomorrow...

Sincerely,
- bonzie anne

Bonzie, sorry for my being presumptuous, I just thought we have enough in common to try. Very open, accepting man here

I'm not finding you presumptuous, Mel, or feeling at all offended by your notes... except I've been on the Internet since 1984 as a professional computer programmer (for Cornell and subsequently in my own software development and distribution business), and have developed a very low tolerance for pseudonymous presentations on the net... there are far too many impostors on the net!

I'm 100% out there - which is kind of obvious from my photos, but my abnormally high profile on the Internet! "PageRank LOVES ME!" - LOL! (That's Google's page indexing algorithm; I never do what they call SEO - "Search Engine Optimization" - to try to push my pages higher in their page displays, nevertheless, I do make it onto the first page of results... in some extraordinary categories?

It might be interesting to meet sometime; one of the nifty aspects of transitioning for me is that I'm no longer shy with strangers - au contraire: I now chat quite freely with total strangers on a regular basis! And they mostly seem to enjoy it! ;-)

... but for the time being, you'd be facing some pretty low expectations in the relationship department!

ON THE OTHER HAND - OK, talk about bizarre coincidences?

... while composing this message to you, for the very first time I came across that gentleman's profile on OKCupid! ... and he was, briefly, online! So I messaged him...

Well, MAYBE he will get back in touch now? (NB: "Chemotherapy sucks." I know this, which is why I've been so patient?)

Which means nothing; it's not even necessarily his profile? It's the damned Internet! ANYONE can fake an identity on here! And his silence signifies... nothing, since I don't know whether he's just diverting himself while sinking slowly into the abyss... Or whether he's just too embarrassed to follow through? Or... what?

Tsk tsk: we live in an era of people striving for anonymity... whose meanings eventuate in nullities, because they choose to swamp themselves in the ocean of indifference into which they have launched their vessels of hope...

Care about all, or care not at all: the sharks are circling, and they, too, have their hopes up.... "psychopaths".

Yeah, well, I just had a long talk with my mother about it... which was reassuring; at least I know for sure that -she- gives a damn!

So, have a nice day, OK, Mel?

And -be good-.

thanks!
- bonzie anne

PS: And that gentleman might even be posing... as -you-. Hey, I'm not merely a software developer, I'm kind of an expert on Internet security, right? Believe me, what I know about it is -not- reassuring!

LOLOL: I've got to tag this with a tune; it's my modus operandi, y'know?

And it's a favorite of mine from when I was young that comes to mind... Good Lord: will I -ever- learn better? ... evidently not! ;-)

PPS: This note is getting posted to my Facebook Page, just because I think it's a nifty meditation on my situation here, with which so many of my friends are familiar... yes, I am for real; of that, have no doubt.

Lmao. Pleased to meet you. Can you email me instead of here ???

Well, sure!

(I'm laughing myself, but there's kind of an hysterical tinge to it, right?)

That'd be bonze.blayk@databeast.com ...

thanks!
- bonzie anne

Or just call, if you're up for it? = 607-277-5808!

Oct 6, 2013 - 6:33pm

(That number is made available all over the Internet... "Open 24/7/365" ... which, oddly enough, helps guarantee that nobody calls? It's true! LOL!)

thanks!
