A Release version note has been added.	1
Comet-NCSA now handles the URL (Uniform Resource Locator) specifiers which NCSA Mosaic uses to set the window name of its Telnet document. It now uses only the host address as the window name; the rest of the URL, which usually contains login information, is now saved in the document's ".edit" window, so that you can easily refer to it when you are logging on to the telnet host.	6
Consulting:
Investigation of OCLC macro connection bug and related Comet/MacTCP "send_wait clobbered" bug.	15
Investigation of launch bug which causes Comet to fail to open documents.	2
Consulting with Library on diacritics and compatibility with OCLC and RLN services.	3

---

Find and fix bug in Copy routine so that emulator screens do not have garbage characters appended to the end when a selection is made by dragging the mouse past the bottom of the page.

1

Find and fix bug in MacTCP Domain Name Resolution routine so that error reports from the asynchronous callback routine are handled correctly in all cases (this prevented Comet from working properly if no Domain Name Server was specified).

2

Fix macro key handling so that key macros are triggered by the same keystrokes regardless of which keyboard layout is in use .
